MEDITATION/VISUALIZATION

PART ONE

The Water Bearer — “Water of Life I Am, Poured Forth for Thirsty Men”

Water — “the great Purifier”, the “Elixir of Life”.

“As both the physical body of humans and the planet’s surface are composed prevalently of water, we see the Creator’s pattern in both. The minerals in the waters of the oceans and those dissolved in blood are of similar proportions. The ocean currents and blood flow perform a similar function of distribution of life-giving nutrients.

The Great Flood of ancient history and the ritual of Baptism by water were a cleansing, in turn, of the planet Earth and of the lower self in the individual [and an invocation of ‘higher waters’].

In traditional cultures water was often carried by balancing a vessel on the head in order to be shared, yet in the carrying of the water the hands are left empty and free for giving and do not grasp. Poise and balance in movement are needed to direct the flow of water to those in need.

In AAB’s Labours of Hercules, the eleventh labor occurs following the initiation on the mountain top. The labor involves the humble task of cleaning the Augean stables of accumulated animal waste, symbolizing the cleaning through water washing away evil. Two rivers are employed by Hercules. He brings the rivers into confluence which symbolizes the combined energies of spiritual Life and Love. These are energies which are needed for understanding and wielding them as Humanity enters the Aquarian Age.”

VISUALIZATION

“See densest matter, the Mineral Kingdom, being dissolved by water and undergoing initiation as it is “lifted up” by plant roots in order to build the plant and become its structure. The plant rises and extends to the light of the Sun as minerals form its body. The Mineral Kingdom serves the kingdom above. Physical consciousness is transformed into etheric expression of energy as photosynthesis produces energy through sunlight, water, and minerals. Recognize this process in which the synthesis is greater than the sum of the substances when water and light are brought into relationship.

The Plant kingdom serves its higher purpose as it sustains the bodies of the Animal kingdom. As the plants offer themselves in sacrifice to this next higher kingdom, they form bodies that are of greater consciousness than their own. Through mobility and wider experience of the environment, the plant kingdom is raised. The energy of the plant is transmuted from the physical and etheric planes to the astral plane of desire in the animal consciousness. The animal seeks its group and instinctively wants to perpetuate its own kind. It becomes group conscious.

The lower Kingdoms are initiated through their service to Humanity. The mineral kingdom provides his shelter, the plant kingdom provides his vitality, and the animal kingdom, through domestic animals, in particular, serve Humanity through work and companionship. Humanity is as God to the Lower Kingdoms. You are the caregiver and initiator of the lower kingdoms all of which are sacred aspects of divine manifestation. All the lower kingdoms as well as Humanity must have water in order to serve their purpose and express Life.

As Humanity evolves and revolves through many cycles we develop a mental apprehension of the Laws of Nature. Water takes on a symbolic meaning by which we can serve the next higher kingdom, the Kingdom of Souls. Just as water circulates within the body and the planet, a fluid energy circulates and sustains the outer forms of all four kingdoms. The energy with the same properties as water on the physical plane manifests on the spiritual plane as Love. See the stream of Love divine flowing such that all spiritual thirst is quenched. Water as the medium of Life-giving in the lower kingdoms has its correspondence in Love. Love is the Life-giving stream in the spiritual kingdoms. It is the destiny of Earth in our solar system and you, the water bearing disciple, seek it at its highest source and pour it forth with every good thought and deed.

You, the disciple, carry water upon your head. The vase is inverted so that it is continuously flowing down and outward. The waters flow is in direct proportion to your pouring. As you learn the ways of God, the golden fluid of love slakes the thirst for knowledge and, ultimately, transmutes into wisdom for yourself and your fellow humans. You pour forth the water to sooth the burning pain and suffering of the astral/emotional nature with compassion that flows from your heart.

You, the disciple, stand with the water pot upon your head with arms outstretched and, in this position, you form the Cross and redeem. The energies of the soul pour downward like a waterfall that merges Light and Life from the Kingdom of Souls above, and flow into your head and heart. The outgoing energies are distributed through the arms extended with open palms. And so the divine Light and Love pour through you to benefit Humankind. You serve the kingdom above by distributing on behalf of fellow humans and the lower kingdoms.

With self-forgetfulness, harmlessness, and right speech you are the server of Life and Love.”
